

THURSDAY, APRIL 01, 2010

Painted Veil

Till 7 April

Painted Veil, the title of Boshudhara Mukherjee's debut show in Mumbai, is taken from a sonnet by Percy Bysshe Shelley. Like Shelley's poem Lift not the Painted Veil, Mukherjee's canvases are lyrical laments that speak of disillusionment, despair and beauty. After painting on canvas, Mukherjee slices up the paintings and weaves them again to create unlikely patterns. The art is as much in the hanging canvases as in the shadows they cast, often revealing delicate patterns and simple shapes.

11.30am-7.30pm (Tuesday-Saturday); 11.30am-5pm (Sunday). Volte, 2/19, Kamal Mansion, First floor, Arthur Bunder Road, Colaba (22041220).